STUDENT PROFILE: Jamie Ellis, Class of 2011

Hello! I am currently a second year student in the SAHE program and work as an Assistant Residence Director in Braiden Hall. I completed my undergraduate work at CSU in 2009 and was excited to be able to continue my education at CSU through SAHE. My bachelor's degree is in Human Development and Family Studies and Women's Studies, both of which have enhanced my understanding of the student affairs profession. I appreciate the interaction among the SAHE faculty and the cohorts to create dynamic learning experiences. SAHE offers many practical experiences both inside and outside the classroom. This past summer I was able to complete an ACUHO-I Summer Internship at a private women's college in Pennsylvania. This semester in addition to my assistantship in Residence Life, I am working with Case Management at CSU, a recently developed office assisting students navigate and utilize the many services and resources offered on the CSU campus and in the Fort Collins community. Additionally, I had the opportunity to travel to Vancouver, British Columbia in March with SAHE to experience student affairs outside of the United States. As I approach graduation from SAHE in May, I am so grateful of the many opportunities, lessons, and connections offered to me throughout this program. I am proud to become CSU Alum once again!

FACULTY PROFILE: Craig Chesson, Assistant Dean of Students

I relocated to Fort Collins in 1992 from New York City and fell in love with the Rocky Mountain region. I have worked in Colorado State University's Division of Student Affairs with Upward Bound, Office of Admissions, Residence Life, and Conflict Resolution and Student Conduct Services. I recently earned my PhD in Educational Leadership from the School of Education at CSU and very excited to engage students in the classroom. I graduated from the Student Affairs in Higher Education (SAHE) program and have great memories of intellectual classroom conversations. I received my Bachelor's of Science degree from the Rochester Institute of Technology in Hotel management and worked for Hyatt & Stouffers. I currently am the Assistant Dean of Students and co-teach the Capstone class with Lisa Miller. I have three beautiful children and an incredible wife.
